The extensive course curriculum and intensive training are geared to provide every student that vital competitive edge in the corporate world.

IIM International Institute of Management is promoting, distributing and sharing key areas of knowledge in the field of management.

Director IIM International Institute of Management

Dear Students,

Greetings from IIM International Institute of Management!

As you all might know that when someone talks about acquiring knowledge and skills in management disciplines, one always approaches the institution which is technical in nature. It is primarily because no one can understand technology better than an institution which is created only to cater to technical subjects. The IIM International Institute of Management is an institution which only offers courses in management disciplines under the distance education programmes and therefore, the courses have a clear bias of skills that can make a student innovative and can imbibe in him a confidence to compete in the competitive environment.

It is easy to identify the programmes of IIM International Institute of Management in comparison to any other institution primarily because the syllabus is one of the most updated syllabi. Every student in the distance education programme is required to undertake a compulsory course in communication and soft skills which prepare students to market their skills better. The teaching pedagogy provides elaborate discussion with the faculty of the learning centers which not only provides face to face contact but also provide the student learning material, practical exposure, structured learning, job counseling, placement activities, notes and quiz as well as a diverse exposure with people from industry. The student support provided in the distance education programme of IIM International Institute of Management is two tier system through which student grievances and their requirements are taken care of either by learning centre or online.

IIM International Institute of Management is a private institution and it takes care of its social obligations by providing an opportunity for all sections of society. It is our aim to integrate students who do not have avenues to take up higher education either due to their locational disadvantage or due to financial constraints. IIM International Institute of Management is a structured system of higher education, flexible in approach, competitive with the best in quality, affordable by all and fun to learn.

I invite you to experience this exciting, stimulating and supportive place for pursuing higher education and learn skills which will prepare you to effectively contribute in national development.

Mr. Rohit Vachher
Director
